Slow down Woman concerned about kids

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Julie Nicol cringes every time she hears tires squeal on Maryville Road. Nicol escorts four children to nearby Wilson Elementary School each day because of what she perceives as a dangerous situation.

"My main concern is for the kids," Nicol told Granite City aldermen attending a combined meeting of the council's Police, Traffic and Street committees Thursday night. "Sometimes children don't think before they step out in the road. You have to watch out for them."

The danger is the result of several problems along Maryville Road, a four-lane state road connecting Illinois Highways 203 and 162.

One problem is that the sidewalks along the heavily-traveled road are right against the curb. Another is that a school crosswalk traffic light, located between Wilson Avenue and Saratoga Street, sometimes malfunctions.

"My main concern is for the kids. Sometimes children don't think before they step out in the road. You have to watch out for them."

— Julie Nicol
Concerned parent

"I've seen kids push the button and nothing happens. But sometimes the wind will make the light change," Nicol said.

But the biggest problem, Nicol said, is speeders — despite of a number of "reduced speed limit" and "School zone" signs and stop sign on Maryville Road at the nearby intersection of Terminal Avenue.

Nicol has even posted her own home-made (See TRAFFIC, Page 7A)

Julie Nicol, of the 2900 block of Maryville Road, walks her children Emily, 4; Shawn, 10; Chelsey, 5; and Justin, 6; to Wilson School Friday morning. She posted the sign at right to remind drivers that speed can be deadly.

Shipley will resign city post Alderman to take over in May as new township supervisor

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

When Bob Shipley takes office as Granite City Township Supervisor in early May, he will have to give up his position as a township trustee and as a city alderman.

Shipley said last week that he was looking into the possibility of keeping his aldermanic seat after taking office. Because he was elected alderman in 1995, there will be two years of Shipley's four-year 3rd Ward aldermanic term remaining when he is sworn in as township supervisor the first week in May.

The elected mayor and aldermen in Granite City also serve as the Granite City Township board of trustees. Shipley was elected township supervisor April 1 and will take office.

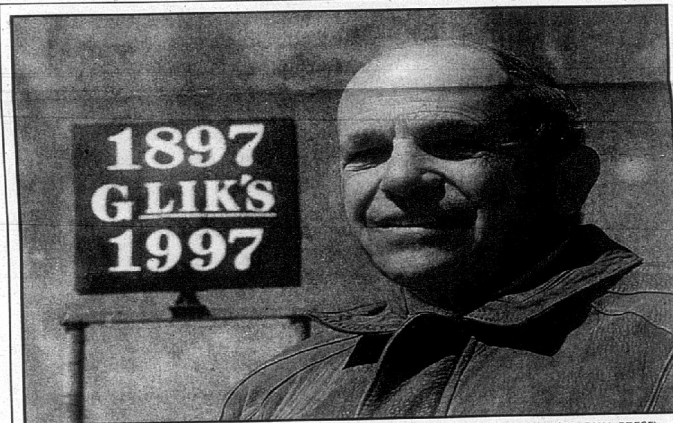

"There are a lot of things going on in the city right now — the 16th Street improvement project, contract negotiations, the Highway 3 tax increment finance district — that I'd like to see completed before I leave office," Shipley said.

But Granite City Township Attorney Bill Schooley said Monday that Shipley must give up both his trustee and aldermanic positions when he is sworn in as supervisor. "As a township trustee, he would be setting his own salary (as supervisor)," Schooley said of the township post. "The positions are incompatible."

Asked if Shipley could give up the township trustee post (See SHIPLEY, Page 7A)

Funds lacking for bypass

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Department of Transportation has only $1.5 million in its five-year plan for land acquisition for the Alton Bypass and nothing earmarked for construction.

IDOT district engineer Dale Kiohr said no land will be purchased unless it is necessary to keep owners from improving their property and running up the cost.

"If an owner intends to improve his property, he is required to notify us so we can make a decision on whether to buy it. It allows us to protect the corridor," Kiohr said.

The 21-mile highway extending Interstate 255 north from Interstate 270 is expected to cost $230 million.

Construction work began on the southern leg of the bypass in 1994, when contracts were awarded for eight bridges and two contracts for grading.

Construction of the bridge carrying the highway over Illinois Route 143 near Wood River began in the summer of (See FUNDS, Page 7A)

Digital TV is still years away

By Mark Hodapp
Staff writer

The Federal Communications Commission's decision to replace analog television with digital TV does not have the owner of a Granite City radio and TV service/appliance store upset — yet. "It is technology that still is years away," State Radio and TV Service owner Linda Vaughn said. "It's a little bit early to get media hype. It probably won't happen until the year 2000."

Randy Smith, programming and production manager of Charter Communications cable TV, whose headquarters are in Maryville, said it's an FCC standard that's been established, and the next step is for television companies to decide whether they will produce the product.

"If they do, it probably won't happen for several years," Smith said. "High definition television won't even be on the market for awhile, so it's pretty early to worry about it now. "Basically," he said, "our corporate engineering staff will be eyeing things as to whether we could implement that or whether we would, but we'll review the stats accordingly." The ruling is drawing mixed signals from Bob Heil of Heil Sound in Fairview Heights. According to the ruling, every television (See TV, Page 7A)

Professor tackles smokeless tobacco

Seminars warn young people of link between cancer and chewing tobacco

With the new major-league baseball season under way, a local dental professor is trying to strike out the use of chewing tobacco by young people, despite the prevalence of the habit among sports heroes.

Dr. Cornell Thomas, associate professor at the Southern Illinois University School of Dental Medicine, held seminars April 4-5 in hopes of preventing young people from acquiring the dangerous chewing habit or stopping them if they already have started.

"Don't start (using tobacco). If you've started, quit. It may be called smokeless tobacco, but it has been linked to the same type of health problems as cigarettes," Thomas said.

"I call it spit tobacco. That's a better description of what it really is," Thomas said. "It's smokeless, that's true, but that certainly doesn't mean it's safe or non-addictive."

"With baseball season, you get kids — high school and college — trying snuff and chewing tobacco for the first time. They've seen major-leaguers do it, they've seen older teen-agers do it, they've seen their fathers do it. It's as much a part of baseball as the head-first slide... expect once these players get started on spit tobacco, their addiction sends them on a slide toward some serious health problems," Thomas said.

Thomas said he became active in alerting people to the dangers of tobacco when someone handed his son a free sample of chewing tobacco at a St. Louis Rams football game. Thomas' grandmother also died several months after he found a cancerous lesion in her mouth.

Thomas said he plans to train people to speak to youths at schools and at baseball organizations about the harmful effects of using tobacco in the hopes of starting an active group to combat the influence of baseball players chewing tobacco, as well as advertising.

"They target kids with slick ads," Thomas said. He said he has met with local and regional school superintendents to discuss ways of getting the anti-chewing messages into health and physical education curriculums.

Dr. Robert Mecklenburg, of Potomac, Md., who serves on national and international organizations dedicated to tobacco control, led one presentation along with Jacquelyn Fried, professor at the University of Maryland Dental School.

Fried has led 30 tobacco use cessation and prevention seminars for dental professionals and will instruct dental professionals on maximizing "teachable moments" to convince patients to stop using tobacco.

"We can point to oral problems and tell patients that their tobacco use is at least partly responsible," Fried said. "Many people who use tobacco have the mindset that cancer and other health problems just 'won't happen to me.'"

Gateway job fair set for May 3

By Bob State
Staff writer

Madison residents will have an opportunity to land a number of full- and part-time jobs May 3 when Gateway International Raceway conducts a job fair at Madison Middle School.

The job fair, to be held from 8 a.m. to noon that day, will be the second in as many months conducted by the race-track organizers.

"We handed out more than 250 applications at the last fair and 15 people were hired on site," said Madison Mayor-elect John Hamm.

Among the seasonal positions available are those in concessions and food service, security, hospitality, ushers, parking attendants, ticket takers and sellers, observers, ground maintenance, building maintenance, housekeeping, sanitation, fencing, equipment maintenance, equipment operators, receptionist, secretary, runners and drag crew.

Gateway International Raceway, located just off Illinois 203 in Madison, is currently undergoing a $22 million improvement.

Three "major" motorsports events are slated for this summer, the first of which is scheduled for May 22, with many other events on the schedule.

Finalist — Jori Keener of Pontoon Beach will be competing as a state finalist in the Illinois Miss American Coed Teen Pageant at the O'Hare Marriott in Chicago on Aug. 1 and 2. In addition to the official crown, banner and bouquet, the winner of the pageant will receive $500 cash, a travel allowance and the sponsorship fee to compete in the national pageant. Thousands of dollars in cash awards, scholarships and prizes will be awarded during the state pageant weekend. Keener, 16, is a student at Granite City High School, a member of the high school band, the Granite City Bubble Masters Dive Club and the Pontoon Baptist Church. Keener, center, is pictured with her mother, Marsha Kumle, left, and Chuck Unger, president of Omni Bank, Keener's sponsor.

Friends, classmates spread hepatitis

Nine new cases have been confirmed since first of the month, officials say

BETHALTO — Among the secondary cases of hepatitis A being confirmed in the River Bend area are children who have been friends and classmates with the original victims of the disease, health officials said Thursday.

Debra Tscheschlok, personal health services manager for the Madison County Health Department, said the number of cases confirmed in April had reached nine by last Wednesday.

"In one situation, we had cases spreading among children who had attended a slumber party," Tscheschlok said.

She said six new cases are being investigated. When the nine cases revealed Wednesday are added to the 18 identified last month in Madison County and two in Macoupin County, 29 cases of the disease have been confirmed in two months, according to officials. Only two of those cases are believed to be unrelated to the Bethalto.

Boys and Girls Club wrestling team, health officials said. Tscheschlok said students and parents still shouldn't be worried about casual contact with infected people. The disease is spread through fecal-oral contact, which usually occurs when someone hasn't washed his or her hands properly after using the restroom, health officials say. Even trace amounts of the germs left on hands can transmit the disease, although Tscheschlok said prolonged exposure is usually necessary.

"Once hepatitis is in the community, this is what will happen," she said. The cause of the outbreak is unknown. Health officials suspect that wrestling team members ate together at the same restaurant, where someone passed on the germ.

signs in her yard reminding drivers to be cautious. But drivers continue to ignore the speed limit along the half-mile stretch from Terminal Avenue to Wilson Avenue and beyond, Nicol said.

She set up stakes along the road and timed cars driving by. In one 90-minute period after school, she documented more than 130 speeders. She counted more than 100 in another 35-minute period, she said.

"It's spring and the kids are coming out. It happens every year," she said. "And if they step a foot and a half out (off the sidewalk), they're in the traffic lane."

The problem will be aggravated in the summer, when children are not in school, Nicol said. A nearby ice cream stand, confectionary and park attract kids on foot and riding bicycles in the summer.

Alderman Foster Frederick, chairman of the Traffic Committee, said enforcement of the speed limit could be a solution.

Assistant Police Chief Kip Pomeroy said police had written 112 speeding tickets, three tickets for driving under the influence, and cited several other violators along the stretch since Jan. 1.

"I think we're making a concerted effort," Pomeroy said. "We have similar situations along Pontoon Road and at stop signs along Franklin Avenue. It is a consistent thing throughout the city."

Pomeroy said department manning makes it impossible to assign an officer exclusively to traffic duty at all of the hot spots in the city, especially when officers already respond to 28,000 calls for service each year.

"If it comes down to a choice between enforcing drug and prostitution laws and enforcing traffic laws, I think we'll focus on curbing the drug activity," Pomeroy said.

"I know they can't stay out there all the time," said Nicol, whose father was a police officer.

But Alderman Bob Shipley, chairman of the Police Committee, said something must be done to slow down traffic.

"It's an issue we need to address in any way, shape or form we can," Shipley said. "The people that are running that red light or that stop sign are willingly violating the law. If they're going to do that, they have to face the consequences when they get caught."

Shipley said he would investigate the possibility of adding funding for an additional police officer to be assigned exclusively to traffic enforcement — to the city's budget.

Several other remedies were also discussed, including making the traffic light flash red constantly and putting up a fence along the road.

One resident of the area whose 10-year-old daughter has Down Syndrome asked if he could put up a fence in his front yard to keep her from wandering too near the street. He was directed to the city's zoning office to apply for a variance.

Nicol said she recently heard a dog get hit by a passing car.

"When I heard those tires squeal, my heart just stopped," Nicol said. "I was sure it was a kid."

Shipley said the Police Committee would continue to search for solutions to the problem.

•TV

station will be required to transmit all of its programs in digital by 2006.

This means people will have to buy a new digital TV by then or a device that would enable existing TVs to receive digital signals.

Network-owned and affiliated stations, including some in the St. Louis area, are expected to begin offering digital TV programming within 30 months.

The problem: Most TVs made today have 300-line resolution. In other words, it takes 300 lines to make a picture.

A high-definition TV has a 1,200-line resolution.

To update to high definition could be quite costly.

A 28-inch, high-definition TV introduced last week by JVC now costs $7,700, Heil said. A high-definition VCR now costs $9,800.

"But the VCR tape is only $65," Heil said sarcastically.

Heil said he doubts that the prices will drop drastically. But he believes many people are taking a knee-jerk reaction to the FCC's decision. He said he does not expect to see full-fledged digital television happening in his lifetime.

As a result, he believes consumers should not rush to purchase a high-resolution TV today because a converter box is being developed.

This converter box, which could cost $100 to $300, will be able to convert existing analog televisions to read digital signals.

Heil also said the FCC ruling could result in some television stations going off the air. He estimated it will cost a television station $8 million to replace its equipment.

"How many television stations do you see being able to afford this?" he asked.

Heil, however, isn't predicting doom and gloom in the television industry.

"But I don't see this taking off," he said.

As an example, Heil cited Japan. Japan offered high-definition five or six years ago. While some shopping malls purchased it, the Japanese people didn't want to spend $20,000 for a television set, Heil said.

High-definition television does, of course, have its advantages as viewers will get a more detailed image.

But Heil said he suspects the National Association of Broadcasters will contest the FCC's decision.

Heil also questions if viewers will notice a difference on some television screens that are on the market today.

"The electronic industry needs a new gadget to fire us up," he said. "The market is searching for a product."

1995. Work began on the 3-mile stretch between 1-270 and the Cahokia Diversion Channel a year ago.

Completion of the highway to Route 143 is expected in October 1998.

Some other local projects are included in IDOT's proposed five-year highway improvement program announced earlier this week.

The plan includes:

- $567,000 for resurfacing 6.5 miles of Illinois Route 140 from Illinois Route 159 to Park Avenue in Hamel.

- $664,000 for resurfacing 7.6 miles of Illinois Route 157 from Ann Street in Edwardsville to First Street in Hamel.

Illinois highway officials have said additional construction money for the bypass will have to come from the federal government.

River Bend Growth Association President Don Miller said the lack of construction money in the five-year plan was anticipated.

Business owners are pushing for the bypass because it can bring new jobs and construction dollars to the area and link Alton and Wood River directly to the interstate highway system.

People lobbying for the bypass said they are working to get $180 million put in a federal highway transportation bill this year.

Brian Lott, an aide to U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello, D-Ill., said Wednesday the bill hasn't been introduced yet but that Costello is strongly in favor of getting money for the road.

Lott said he doesn't anticipate a vote on the bill for some months.

Love propels grand (mother) achievement

If you think Tiger Woods mastering the Masters or Brant Brown giving Ryne Sandberg the mother of all headaches was the big sports story this week, think again.

The big sports story of the week occurred in Bethalto. It was 1:45 Monday afternoon. I was just leaving the newsroom for an interview when my daughter called to inform me that she had left her softball uniform at home and needed it for the Eagles' 4 p.m. game. After all, as she had told me on Sunday, she was scheduled to be the starting catcher for Civic Memorial.

I told her I couldn't run home and get her uniform. This was already a rescheduled appointment.

"What about grandma?" I wanted to know. "She's at the house."

"Yeah, but grandpa took the van to go somewhere," said my daughter. "Grandma has no way to get to the high school."

I told her again that I couldn't help her. Told her I was sorry. Offered a few suggestions of people she might call. Said goodbye to her, listening all the while to her sobs at the other end.

It was hard to do the interview with the sounds of my daughter's weeping still ringing in my ears. I managed somehow. But I wondered if my daughter had.

Returning from my interview, I called my house to see if the situation had been resolved.

My mother-in-law answered. "Yes," she said. "I walked up to the high school and took her the uniform."

Amazing.

The walk from my house to the high school is no small chore. Maybe a mile. Several extremely steep hills. Few sidewalks. Berserk drivers. Other dangers one can only

No horsing around: Gall racing into record books

By Brian Bretsch
Staff writer

Regulars at Fairmount Park say jockey David Gall is a sure thing. Gall, 55, has made thousands of winners out of spectators who wager on the thoroughbred he is riding.

It is easy enough to overlook other thoroughbreds in the race and simply select the horse that Gall is riding—even if the horse is not the favorite.

Why?

Gall, who has raced at Fairmount Park since 1959, is the fourth winningest jockey of all time.

On Sept. 28, Gall became the fourth jockey to reach the 7,000-win plateau when he won riding A.J. Onray in the fourth race at Fairmount Park.

However, the very next day, he suffered a broken left ankle as he was boarding Fty Legion in the No. 1 gate.

The injury kept Gall out of the saddle for six months as he rehabilitated from the injury at his Edwardsville home. Doctors had to place screws in his ankles for support.

The injury also kept Gall from possibly surpassing Angel Cordero Jr. as the third winningest jockey of all time.

During the winter months, Gall races in Chicago.

Gall's misfortune gives fans at Fairmount Park the opportunity sometime this summer to see him surpass Cordero and move into third place.

Cordero, who is now retired, amassed 7,067 wins. Gall has 7,003 victories—including one already this season, which began March 29 and runs through Oct. 4.

Legendary jockey Bill Shoemaker ranks first all time with 8,833 wins, ahead of Laffit Pincay Jr. (8,463) and Cordero (7,857).

"There are few records in thoroughbred racing history as prestigious as the 7,000-win plateau," Fairmount Park vice president and general manager Brian Zander said.

"To achieve beyond that is even more remarkable. We plan to make David's achievement a day to remember at Fairmount Park."

Saturdays in April are a good time to bring the children to the park.

3rd title for Flyers Warriors place 12th at Belleville West Invitational

By Patrick C. Heston
Staff writer

If there's lousy weather on a weekend in the Metro East, there must be a track meet somewhere.

Athletes from 30 schools on both sides of the river braved a frosty morning and cold temperatures throughout the day Saturday at the Belleville West Invitational track meet hosted by Collinsville.

East St. Louis won the event for the third consecutive year, smoking the field and finishing well ahead of runner-up and cross-town rival Lincoln. Granite City finished 12th and Venice 21st.

Minus all-star Rodney Session, East Side was expected to be vulnerable this year. But Marcus Lee and DeTar Anderson swept the 400 meters, providing the spark the Flyers needed to pull away from the field.

Lee, who covered the 400 in 50.4 seconds, also placed second in the 100 meters, won by Belleville West's Elijah Lewis. Anderson, who was on Lee's heels for a second place finish in the 400, also took second in the 200.

The Flyers ran to a first place finish in the 4 x 100 relay (43.4), finished second in both the 100 hurdles and discus, and placed third in the triple jump. In all East Side accumulated 96 1/2 points.

Lincoln, which scored 74 points, claimed first place in both the 100 and 300 hurdles, ran second in the 4 x 300 relay as well as the 1600 meters, and finished third in the 4 x 100 relay.

Though Granite City did not claim an individual or relay championship, the Warriors made a good showing, and finished with 25 1/2 points.

Kelly Huckleberry ran third in the 110 meter hurdles with a time of 15.5 seconds and was seventh in 300 meters.

Dane Bauer was third in the 200 meter dash, covering the sprint in 22.5 seconds. George Wolfe finished fifth in the triple jump (41 feet, 4 1/4 inches). Rocky Smith took seventh in the high jump (5 feet, 8 inches), and Pete McKinnis placed eighth in the discus with a heave of 129 feet.

The 4 x 100 relay team finished eighth with a time of 45.2 seconds. The 4 x 400 relay team placed sixth (3:38.2). The 4 x 400 freshman-sophomore relay team was seventh (4:46.1).

"We had a very good meet," said GCHS varsity coach Gene Briggs. "We showed some depth, placing in nine different

The annual Madison County track meet is running in a different direction.

It'll be a two-fold event later this month. The girls will get together Monday, April 28, in Collinsville, while the boys will stage their show Wednesday, April 30, also in Collinsville. Red and Green Division competition are out. All the schools will participate at one site.

"We were ready to go like we did last year with separate divisions; but some of the coaches came up with the idea of going with one division for boys and girls," said Harland Scheibal of the county Regional Superintendent's Office.

County officials tried a one-division one-day meet at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1995, but the competition stretched out late into the night.

"The coaches didn't seem to like it because it lasted too long," Scheibal said.

Roxana coach Bob Jurgen wants to have the county meet streamlined in a different manner.

"Personally, I'm in favor of it divided like the state meets, with Class AA and Class A teams," he said.

Scheibal said the county

3 Metro East players to start for all-star hoops teams

By Brian Bretsch
Staff writer

The Metro East will be well represented at the 23rd Annual Illinois Basketball Coaches Association boys all-star games June 29 at Peoria's Carver Arena.

Two area Class AA players and one Class A player have been selected for the South squads.

Jim Dougherty of Edwardsville and Erick Greene of Belleville East will represent the area on the Class AA South team.

The 6-foot-4 Dougherty, who is headed to the University of Missouri on a football scholarship, averaged 23.9 points and 6.1 rebounds for the Tigers this season.

Dougherty was a three-year varsity starter and finished his basketball career as the Tigers' fourth all-time leading scorer.

Only South players Tarise Bryson of Stephen Decatur (23.6 ppg) and Craig Snow of Mount Carmel (24.9 ppg) averaged more points per game than Dougherty.

Dougherty Greene

The 6-foot-3 Greene averaged 16.4 points and 9.3 rebounds this year for the Lancers. Only Snow (12.8) and two other South players, Marcus Griffin of Peoria Manual (10.6) and Springfield High's Steve Dixon (10.2), pulled down more rebounds than Greene.

Wayne McClain will coach the South stars. McClain has been the head coach at Peoria Manual for only three seasons, but he owns three state titles and a 94-5 record.

"All you have to do is look at what he's accomplished in only three years," IBCA coordinator Chuck Rolinski said.

A total of 15 players make up the South all-star squad. Each player will get a minimum of 12 minutes of playing time in the 40-minute game.

Other players for the AA South team include Bobby Anderson (Central), Jonah Batumbeze (Normal Community), Taurus Cook (Stephen Decatur), Marlon Crawford (Alton), Jason Jenkins (East Peoria), Sergio McClain (Peoria Manual), Adam Osborn (Lincoln), Josh Virostko (Peoria), and Mark Vershaw (East Peoria).

The AA North squad won the game 106-100 last year and leads the series 12-10. This year's AA All-Star game is slated for 7:30 p.m.

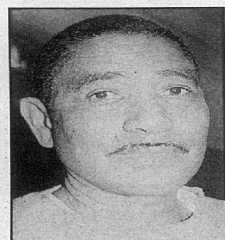

Ryan Patton was named to the South A all-star squad as a starter, while brother Shawn was named as an alternate to the team.

Ryan Patton, a 6-1 guard, averaged 21.4 points and four rebounds for the Eagles as a senior.

Patton is one of six South team members to pour in better than 20 points a contest.

Carlisle's Brad Weather will coach the A South team, which plays the North squad at 5:30 p.m. The South leads the all-star series 14-8.

Members of the A South squad include Aubrey Anthony (Herrin), Terrence Avery (West Frankfort), Rich Beyers (Shelbyville), Eric Bierman (St. Anthony), Ryan Cleland

Mark Dowdy

Dowdy nets dandy

While fishing for bass at the Lake of the Ozarks on April 6, Mark Dowdy of Granite City and his partner were catching some bass when they noticed another angler next to them whose net was doubled over.

After watching for about 10 minutes, they asked if he needed help. "Yes I do," he replied. "I'm worn out."

Dowdy moved his boat next to the man with the catch and fought the fish for him for approximately 20 more minutes. Dowdy got the fish near the surface and netted it.

The catch was a flathead catfish, weighing 33 pounds and measuring 41 1/4 inches long. The fish was caught on a crankbait.

would run into a problem with that format.

"We'd have seven large-school teams, but only four small-school ones," he said.

Of course, if Metro East Lutheran of Edwardsville and Marquette Catholic can beef up their track programs, it would create more of a county-wide balance. The Knights and Explorers, both smaller schools, likely will send individuals only to the county meet.

In other words, there's room for maneuvering if the county coaches want to tinker with things. County officials are willing to vault over any obstacle.

"It's always tough to divide schools and we didn't want to split up CM, Triad and Highland because they are basically the same size," Scheibal said. "So I think if you keep everybody together, it makes for a decent meet. I wouldn't be surprised if it stays the way it is this year."

Both meets are scheduled to start at 3:30 p.m. In case of rain, the girls have rescheduled for April 29 at Highland, while the boys would go May 1 at Collinsville.

Edwardsville won the Red boys and girls events last year. Triad captured the Green boys championship and Highland took the girls title. It was the Bulldogs 19th straight county crown.

SIUE will play host to the NCAA Division II men's and women's outdoor track and field championships, May 22-24.

The three-day event will welcome more than 400 male and female athletes from Division II schools nationwide. The men will compete in 21 events, and the women will participate in 20 events.

It's the first time SIUE is serving as host school for the outdoor championships. The Cougars were the home team for the 1990 Division II cross country championships.

For ticket prices, call 692-2871. Volunteers are also needed. Call 692-2865 for more information.

events. Some schools piled up big points with just a couple of first place finishes, but didn't do much of anything in other events. By contrast, we were very well balanced. As a result, we finished ahead of several schools that, in the past, have finished ahead of us.

The Warriors were in front of Southwestern Conference rivals Edwardsville, Collinsville, Belleville East and Alton. GCHS varsity coach Gene was happy with his squad's performance. "Several of our guys are getting very close to state qualifying marks," he said. "And our personal records are improving each meet. If we continue, it should make for a very successful season."

Venice, fielding an inexperienced squad dominated by freshmen and sophomores, was short-handed on Saturday after a pair of injuries forced coach Kevin Baker to scratch three relay teams. But the Red Devils got a strong performance from junior Jammie Edwards, who finished eighth in the long jump and sixth in the 400 meters (52.1).

"Jammie is a quintessential warm weather runner," said Baker. "But he did well considering the conditions. We don't have much facility-wise at Venice, so we view these early meets as extended practices. Jammie, as well as everyone else, will get better."

The Granite City boys next see action on Friday as they travel to Centralia for the Orphan Relays. The girls are at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this afternoon for the Tiger Relays.

The IBCA also announced that Madison's Al Collins was named District 19 Class A Coach of the Year. The District 19 Class AA Coach of the Year honor went to Alton High's Ron Smith.

Belleville East girls coach Paul James was honored as the District 19 Class AA Coach of the Year.

associate with Bethalto. My mother-in-law covered the course in 25 minutes flat.

She's 70 years old. She's barely 5 feet tall. Danny DeVito in leg irons has a longer stride than she does. It takes at least three of her strides to equal one of mine.

It was an astounding performance, the likes of which has seldom been seen in this small community.

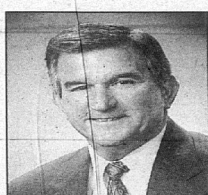

Stand amazed if you want at a 21-year-old humbling Augusta, but it pales by comparison to my mother-in-law's humbling of the Mill Street Mile.

To me, grandma's accomplishment explains a lot. Like why grandma could never hit her when he swung his lunch box in her direction.

But my amazement took a back seat to the need to teach my daughter a valuable lesson on being responsible and prepared.

We had a long talk, during which time I explained to her what grandma had done all because my daughter had forgotten her softball uniform.

"So, what have you learned from this?" I asked. She replied without hesitation, "Grandma's really fast. What could I do but agree?"

Want $25,100 for college?

The Army Reserve can help you take a big bite out of college expenses.

How?

If you qualify, the Montgomery GI Bill could provide you with up to $7,124 for college or approved vo/tech training.

We'll also pay you over $107 a weekend to start. Training is usually one weekend a month plus two weeks' annual training. By adding the pay for Basic Training and skill training, you'll earn over $18,000 during a standard enlistment.

So, if you could use a little financial help getting through school—the kind that won't interfere with school—stop by or call:

Business works to help find solutions

A commercial roof consultant service may seem a lot different than the mom-and-pop grocery stores that thrived in many neighborhoods a generation or two ago, but Jim and Sharon Diehl of south St. Louis County have found similarities since they founded their business, Metro Com, a few years ago.
Metro Com has worked with school districts, colleges, property managers, building owners and even manufacturers of roofing products in solving problems.
Sharon Diehl helps her husband with the daily operations of the business and is active in accounting and marketing.
Metro Com has been able to save considerable amounts of money for many clients, including the Collinsville School District.
The district experienced ongoing water damage due to roof problems at Collinsville High School for years, said Jerome Vandersand, director of business affairs for the school district.
The district solicited bids for work to correct the problems and was faced with a low bid of $460,000. The school district felt the cost was too high and there had to be a less expensive way. Metro Com was retained and did an extremely thorough job investigating the problems and determining what needed to be done.
Metro Com prepared bid specifications and supervised the $244,000 project, saving the school district $216,000. In addition to the savings, the roofing problems were solved.

'God in a New Century' is topic of talk April 20

Residents of Granite City, Madison, Pontoon Beach, Venice and surrounding communities are invited to hear examples of healing — examples of reformation, regeneration and restoration that come through living the example given by Christ Jesus and demonstrated today by thousands who have found the timeless truth of man's spiritual nature through a study of Christian Science. It explains the assurance of God's unchanging love.

Sheldon Pierpont from Des Moines, Iowa, a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship in Boston, will give a talk titled "God in a New Century" at 2 p.m. on Sunday, April 20th, in First Church of Christ Scientist, 2560 Delmar, Granite City.

The talk is a gift to our metropolitan community from the members of the Granite City Christian Science Church and is free of charge. Child care for young children will be provided. On Biblical example: To a man who was seeking healing for his son, who was stricken with what today might be called epileptic seizures, Jesus said, "All things are possible to him that believeth." The Bible goes on, "And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, 'Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief.'"

Neither the disciples' earlier unsuccessful attempts to heal the child, the father's unbelief, nor the crowd's probable distrust dissuaded Jesus from his mental high ground. "Jesus took him by the hand, and lifted him up, and he arose." (Mark 9:23, 24-27)

This new-old medicine of divine mind is being sought today as it was in Biblical times, and may well become a widely approved method of healing for the 21st century.

HOROSCOPE

Wednesday, April 16
Venus moves into Taurus, forming a squared angle between the planet of love and the planet of spiritual inspiration, Neptune. Love will be deeper, more moving and perhaps more conflicted. Put things in writing, and be thorough. Messages will be garbled or unrecieved if there is a ghost of a chance of this happening. Pass no blame, and accept none, either.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
It's time you came to terms with your financial situation and made a decision. Don't rush things at work the boss has his or her own sense of timing. What about dating that industrious Taurus? Read fiction.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
A recent setback is behind you, so work harder. An old flame will seduce you again, despite yourself. Make a contribution to a community event. Call an old Leo friend. Better health comes from changing your thoughts.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21)
Network, and meet people—it will help you in your career. Don't blame a recent failure on your associate; learn from it instead. It's time to introduce your mate to your family. Get away from people who don't believe in you.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)
Moving into a new field may be a good idea. Take night courses to help prepare. If you are nervous about an appointment, don't worry—everything will be fine. Longing for an unfaithful ex-mate will fade, so don't act on it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Show your interest instead of playing it cool. Stop all complaining since it isn't productive. Projecting quiet strength will attract business partners. Exercise with your mate. Emotional goals.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (April 16)
Celebrate—because you no longer run your life by the standards of others. This is a year of freedom. Upgrade your lifestyle next month. A Capricorn or Virgo is a source of deep compassion for you. A special love interest is met in February through friends—allow your aggressive side to lead. The best months for marriage are July and October.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Co-workers admire your remarkable adaptability. You need a mate who is not overly possessive. No one beats you at saving money. Do not be misled if people invite themselves over—everybody knows you're a perfect host.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Your boss admires your punctuality and realism. You are less nervous when you exercise regularly, so do it. Your mate's friends are harmless, and he or she loves you more blood pressure.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21)
Your sense of diplomacy will help you tremendously in your career. Give yourself enough space to do your own thing. It will make your relationship with your mate a better one. Your self-control is admirable.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 22)
Act now to secure your financial future; an older relative has good advice. You'll meet the love of your life at a social event. Plan a trip to a national park with a few friends. People are talking about your sense of humor.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 19)
You don't shy away from challenges—that makes you a successful business person. If you thought you would never fall in love again, happily, you were wrong. Look for a mate who can be an excellent friend, too.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
A long-lost friend will come back. Consider the newest relaxation techniques to help you change a behavior. Seek the friendship of people who have a positive outlook to offer you.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
Keep looking ahead in your career. Your sensitivity and compassion, along with your charm, will seduce a creative Scorpio. Exercise truly benefits you when you do it more regularly.

SIUE alumna turns tables

Fewer than 10 years ago, Kathleen Madigan was working in St. Louis as a waitress and a journalist. For almost a year after graduating from SIUE, Madigan wrote for an in-house magazine at a St. Louis men's athletic club by day and waited tables by night. That was before she stumbled upon amateur night at the St. Louis Funny Bone Comedy Club. "The rest, as they say, is history."

Graduating from SIUE in 1988 with a degree in journalism, Madigan had no intention of becoming a stand-up comedian. After her successful brush with comedy at the Funny Bone, Madigan continued to look for stage time at local clubs. In 1989, Madigan had built an act and she hit the road booking dates throughout the Midwest and South.

Since then, Madigan has appeared on "The Late Show with David Letterman," "The Tonight Show with Jay Leno," "Bob Hope's Ladies of Laughter," "Comic Strip Live," "Evening at the Improv," and she was voted Best Female Stand-Up Comedian at the American Comedy Awards. Madigan has also been a guest on various radio shows and she periodically covers events for ESPN's "Sports Night."

Before her debut at the Funny Bone Comedy Club, Madigan said she recalls seeing other open mic nights at various clubs. "I remember watching people at amateur comedy night and I was thinking, 'I can do this.' So, I had a friend out at the Funny Bone and I decided to go for it," she said. "I did a good job and the managers wanted me to keep at it. I began to realize that this was what I wanted to do."

Madigan hit the road with her act in 1989, and she's been on the move ever since. "I haven't been in one place for more than two weeks since I went on the road," she said. "I was pretty good at journalism, but I knew I couldn't do it for the rest of my life. The idea of a regular day job just bores me to tears and that's why I love this so much. I live for chaos."

Madigan's plans include appearances on Leno and Letterman. She is also planning auditions for television pilots and commercial spots. "Those are just some of my future plans," she said. "Meanwhile, I've been taking my act to places like, Vail, Colo., Los Angeles, Denver, and St. Louis, where I also like to visit family."

Describing her act as dealing in "light sarcasm," Madigan's material has a distinctive Midwest flavor. Her routines often involve such topics as cows, bowling and hunting.

"My material just comes out of everyday experiences," Madigan said. "I don't sit and write every day. I read the paper, watch CNN, talk with people, and that's how I came up with my act."

Madigan said she and her family still can't believe what has happened in the past few years. "My parents love what I'm doing and they've had tons of fun with it, too. I guess we're all still surprised it's turned out so well."

Are You At Risk for Heart Disease?

- ☐ High total cholesterol level
- ☐ Low HDL level (Good cholesterol)
- ☐ High LDL level (Bad cholesterol)
- ☐ High Triglycerides
- ☐ Diabetes
- ☐ Personal history of cardiovascular disease

- ☐ Family history of heart disease
- ☐ Hypertension
- ☐ Overweight
- ☐ Physical inactivity
- ☐ Cigarette smoking
- ☐ Male or post-menopausal female

Your risk for heart and blood vessel disease increases with each box you mark.

Memorial's Preventive Cardiology and Cholesterol Clinic offers a comprehensive and progressive approach to cholesterol management and modification of specific risk factors related to heart disease.

The Preventive Cardiology and Cholesterol Clinic provides a multi-disciplinary team approach to give you individualized care. Services include:

- Personal risk assessment by a cardiologist
- Risk factor counseling by a registered nurse
- Dietary assessment conducted by a registered dietitian
- A complete lipid blood test (total cholesterol, HDL, LDL, triglycerides, coronary risk report)

Based on test results, our professional team will develop a treatment plan to help you improve cholesterol and fat levels as well as reduce your risk of heart and blood vessel disease.

The Clinic team works in conjunction with your primary care physician to monitor progress. Depending upon individual risk levels, the Clinic staff either will provide ongoing clinical evaluation or recommend periodic follow-up.

For more information or to make an appointment, call Memorial's Preventive Cardiology and Cholesterol Clinic at (618) 257-5047.

Medicine Chest

Accidental poisonings do not just stem from household chemicals and products with warning labels. Medicines kept in bathroom cabinets and purses, on windowsills and nightstands await inquiring or misdirected hands. It is easy to misread a prescription label or have an unintended person take medication. Medicines stored in the wrong place can find their way into the wrong hands. Store medicines in a safe place and read labels carefully before taking one anytime.

Fresh Picks

Nothing is so fresh as fruit salad in spring. Slice together 3 kiwifruit, 6 slices fresh or canned pineapple, 1 small melon, 1 mango, 1 grapefruit and 1 orange. Add the juice of 2 oranges and 2 lemons, 5 tablespoons honey, a pinch of cinnamon and a pinch of grated ginger. Toss gently. Cover. Refrigerate up to 4 hours before serving. A little extra juice or a jigger of rum or gin can be added. Nutmeg can replace ginger, if desired.

Big Fat Tip

'Primavera' is a cooking term that means a diner will be served spring-like vegetables, usually cooked fresh. Try these with pasta. In 1 tablespoon hot oil, cook 1/4 cup chopped scallion, 1/2 cup chopped onion, 1 clove garlic (minced) and freshly ground black pepper. Add 2 cups sliced mushrooms. Cook and stir 1 minute. Add 1 cup sliced green pepper, 1-1/2 cups sliced carrot and 1 package (10 ounces) frozen broccoli (steamed). Cook and stir 3 to 5 minutes. Toss with cooked rotini pasta. Warm chicken or vegetable bouillon or broth, a little pasta cooking liquid or a splash of white wine can be added for more moisture.

Future Shop

Although common in Europe and South America, stand-up pouches are coming into their own as food containers in American supermarkets. The stand-up package is flexible enough to replace many folding cartons, jars, bottles and cans. Look for foods, like fresh soups, available in stand-up pouches among refrigerated products, too. Among dry foods, an increasing number of foods traditionally shelved in cartons or bag-in-box will be found in the new packages.

EAT SMART Every Day

Bill Hoffman, executive director of American Heart Association, Missouri Affiliate, gets ready to sample a bean burger. Tapioca Supreme is for dessert. Both dishes are category winners in this year's Eat Smart Recipe Contest sponsored by the heart association and Suburban Journals.

Easy, interesting and useful are the ingredients that add up to the winners in this year's Eat Smart Recipe Contest sponsored by American Heart Association, St. Louis Chapter, and Suburban Journals.

The bean division and the vegetable category showed particular diversity, registered dietitians Connie Diekmann and Mary O'Bryan noted. They were co-chairmen of the contest. The citrus and special occasion dessert recipes provided an interesting array of recipes as well.

- Winners are:
- Vegetable: Suzi's Creamed Spinach from Suzi Wilson, St. Charles.
  - Beans: Bean Burgers from Chris Gavenda, Wildwood.
  - Citrus: Orange Snow Pea Salad from Amy Sumariwalla, Chesterfield.
  - Special Occasion Dessert: Strawberry Tapioca Supreme by Linda Schumacher, St. Louis.

All winners were "tried out" on "real people" and proved to be quick choices.

Diekmann shared Orange Snow Pea Salad at a party where it received "rave reviews," she said.

"While it takes a little more time to make, because the dressing is prepared separately, it serves as both main dish and salad, so it serves double duty at a meal."

O'Bryan liked the ease with which Suzi's Creamed Spinach came to the table.

"This was really easy. It took about five minutes to fix. The low fat is a bargain compared to how much is in most dishes prepared at home, and particularly creamed spinach at a restaurant," she said.

Bean Burgers came into favor with their tester.

"What a bargain in fat and calories!" she said. She ate two at a trial run, then packed the extras to take to work for lunch.

"The center is soft, so I found eating them on a soft bun with all the extras I like — for me it was salsa, fat-free mayo, lettuce and tomato — was a treat. You

FAVORITE FLAVORS

Elvis Presley liked his peanut butter sandwich with banana. If it's good enough for a 'king,' it should be good enough for a lot of people. Mash 1 small ripe banana with 1/2 cup creamy peanut butter and 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon. Separate 1 package (3 ounces) ladyfingers. Spread peanut butter mixture on flat surface of half the ladyfingers. Cover with remaining ladyfingers.

Other favorite combinations could be layering peanut butter and marshmallow creme, or mixing together 1/4 cup creamy peanut butter and 3 tablespoons chocolate syrup.

Private Label Test Run

Flavored creamers can be kept on a shelf or in a drawer ready to flavor a cup of coffee at home or away from home.

Coffee pot draws admirers who like brew with flavor

Flavored coffees have given people who never liked the drink "straight" reason to belly up to the coffee bar.

Schnucks non-dairy, powdered creamers in flavors — Irish cream, amaretto and hazelnut — are a handy means to satisfying this longing.

Each comes in an eight-ounce jar for $1.69. Lids are in different colors, in case a variety of flavors is desired for the pantry shelf.

"Sitting next to them is enticing," a neighbor of the office coffee pot where they were tested said. "I'm aware of them whenever someone opens a jar."

While the directions call for using 3 teaspoons (1 tablespoon) per cup of black coffee, one taster was glad to use less with sufficient flavor.

"You don't need much in my opinion, I use less than a spoonful for a cup," she said. "I still prefer the liquid creamer or syrups at coffee shops, but this is more office-friendly option than the former and cheaper than the latter."

While she liked the Irish cream and hazelnut flavors over amaretto, another enjoyed the combination of flavor and aroma in the amaretto.

"The amaretto's aroma extract smells like, but it's less strong. It has a nice enticing attraction," she said.

Another had a fondness for the Irish cream. "The Irish cream creamer melted quickly in my coffee, which I always take as a sign of a quality product. It improved the taste of my coffee without making it too sweet," he said.

The consistency was rated A on the scale for melting. "There was no evidence of it 'clumping' in the jar. The creamer melted into the coffee easily, too," another tester said.

She called the aroma of the hazelnut flavor "fantastic," because "it's the aroma as much as the taste that makes flavored creamers and coffees appealing."

Ring in spring with dessert fling

Spring flowers, new starts, wardrobe changes and wanting to go back outside come with spring. Also comes an opportunity to try those new recipes clipped from magazines and papers on cold winter nights.

Ah, spring springs new recipes for desserts. Prepared for family or friends, dessert should bring a smashing finish to a meal. Let it leave a lasting impression.

Desserts can be complicated, consuming time and effort for a cook. With the help of speedy microwave cooking, a fantastic dessert can be created in only minutes. Be sure to add the season's fresh fruits as garnish to add nutrition, color and flavor.

Everything from pie crust to topping can be prepared in a microwave oven. For a special treat, opt for a toasted coconut crust. The easy task of toasting the coconut is the flavorful beginning.

Place 7 ounces shredded coconut in a microwave-safe casserole or pie plate. Microwave on high power 4 to 6 minutes, stirring at 1-minute intervals to assure even browning. Save ¼ cup toasted coconut for garnish on the pie.

Heat 1 tablespoon margarine on high power 10 seconds or until it melts. Stir together the margarine and larger amount of coconut until coconut is coated. Press it against the bottom and side of pie pan. Microwave on high power 1 minute.

Fill the crust with prepared vanilla pudding and garnish with reserved ¼ cup toasted coconut for a quick pie. Chill several hours before serving.

Graham cracker crusts are prepared quickly with the help of a microwave oven. Seal 12 whole graham crackers in a plastic self-closing bag. Using a rolling pin, crush the crackers into fine crumbs. Microwave ¼ cup margarine in microwave-safe container on high power 30 to 40 seconds until melted. Pour margarine into bag with graham cracker crumbs and 2 tablespoons sugar. Press ingredients together in bag until well mixed.

Press coated cracker crumbs evenly around side and bottom of 9-inch pie pan. Microwave on high power 1½ minutes. Cool before adding filling.

Plan to fill that prepared graham cracker crust with cheese and fresh fruit. A delicious spring dessert is only minutes away.

Home economist Judy Eddy specializes in microwave cooking.

SPRING FRUIT TART

- 1 pkg. (8 oz.) neufchatel (light cream) cheese
- ½ cup raspberry preserves
- 1 tsp. milk
- ¼ cup reduced-fat sour cream
- 1 tsp. sugar
- 1 pt. fresh strawberries, sliced vertically
- 2 fresh nectarines, peeled, sliced
- Prepared graham cracker crust, cooled

Soften cream cheese in microwave-safe mixing bowl on high power 15 seconds. Using electric mixer at medium speed, beat cheese until creamy. Add milk, sour cream, sugar and ¼ cup preserves. Beat until well blended.

Coat 9-inch square baking pan with nonstick cooking spray. In medium bowl, combine flour, sugar, baking powder and salt.

In small bowl, mix oil, milk and egg whites. Add to dry mixture. Stir 1 minute. Carefully stir blueberries into batter.

Spread batter in prepared pan. Sprinkle Topping over batter.

Bake in preheated oven 45 to 50 minutes until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean.

Topping: Blend together 1½ tablespoons margarine (corn or sunflower oil stick margarine), ½ cup sugar, ¼ cup flour and ½ teaspoon cinnamon.

Makes 12 servings; 211 calories, 3.5 g protein, 34 g carbohydrate, 7 g fat (0.7 g saturated), no cholesterol and 223 mg sodium each. Food exchanges: ½ fruit, 1½ bread, 1½ fat.

Recipes

SWORDFISH STEAKS

- 1 lb. swordfish steaks, cut ¾ inch thick
- 1 can (6 oz.) tomato juice
- 1 tsp. instant minced onion
- ¼ tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. sugar
- 1/8 tsp. oregano, crushed
- ¼ tsp. grated lemon peel
- 2 tsp. fresh lemon juice
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 drop liquid smoke

Cut swordfish in 4 serving-size pieces.

In small saucepan, combine tomato juice, onion, salt, sugar, oregano, lemon peel and juice, Worcestershire sauce and liquid smoke. Bring to boil. Simmer briskly 7 minutes or until very thick and reduced to ½ cup. Stir frequently, especially during last 2 minutes as mixture thickens.

Grilling: On lightly-oiled grill over medium coals, grill about 7 minutes. Turn over. Brush cooked side with sauce. Grill about 7 minutes longer until done, brushing with more sauce as needed.

Broiling: Place fish on cold broiler pan 3 to 5 inches from heat. Broil about 5 minutes. Turn over. Brush with sauce.

Heart-y Bites

Bake new traditions based on favorites

Our eating habits are tied to tradition. There are ethnic, regional and family traditions.

In the early days of this country, available fats were butter, lard and beef tallow. Later, shortening was introduced. All these fats contain significant amounts of saturated fat which can increase serum cholesterol levels.

These fats were used to develop favorite dessert recipes like cherry pie, strawberry shortcake, blackberry cobbler and apple dumplings. Today, the goal is to reduce cholesterol and saturated fat in foods, and consequently reduce serum cholesterol and the risk for heart disease. The recipes of many traditional foods can be revised to use less fat and whole eggs.

Blueberry Buckle is a traditional New England coffee cake which is typical of what can be done to bring it closer to healthy standards. The recipe lists 2 eggs and 1½ sticks (¾ cup) butter. A modified version of this traditional favorite cuts fat dramatically by letting the sweet and fruity flavor of the berries shine. A small amount of canola oil and egg whites still give it the texture of cake.

Registered dietitian Kathleen Obert is a member of the nutrition committee of the American Heart Association, St. Louis Chapter.

LOW-FAT BLUEBERRY BUCKLE

- 2 cups flour
- ½ cup sugar
- 2½ tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- ¼ cup canola oil
- ¾ cup skim milk
- 2 egg whites
- 2 cups fresh or frozen blueberries

Topping: Preheat oven to 350°.

each.

ORANGE SNOW PEA SALAD

- 4 boneless, skinless chicken breast halves
- 1 tsp. olive oil
- ½ tsp. seasoned salt or salt-free seasoning
- 1 cup water
- 3 cups fresh snow peas or garden snap peas
- 2 oranges, zest cut from peel, then peeled and sectioned
- ½ cup chopped fresh cilantro
- 2 green onions, both green and bulb, chopped
- ½ cup shredded radicchio or red cabbage
- 2 cups romaine lettuce, torn in bite-size pieces
- Dressing: ½ cup sliced almonds

In skillet coated with non-stick cooking spray, drizzle chicken with olive oil and seasoned salt. Over medium-low heat, brown chicken. Add water. Bring to boil. Lower heat. Simmer about 20 minutes until about ½ cup broth remains. Cut in long strips about ¼-inch wide. Trim ends of snow peas.

String if necessary. Place in boiling water. Cook 1 minute. Drain in colander, running cold water over peas to stop cooking. Cut in long strips.

In serving bowl, gently toss together snap peas, orange, cilantro, onion, radicchio and romaine lettuce. Top with chicken. Drizzle with warm Dressing. Sprinkle almonds on top.

Dressing: In saucepan, heat together ½ cup orange juice, ¼ cup lime juice, 2 teaspoons sugar, ½ cup chicken broth, 1 teaspoon zest from oranges in salad and 2 teaspoons cornstarch mixed in ¼ cup water.

Over low heat, cook and stir until mixture boils. Cook 1 minute longer. Makes 4 servings; 229 calories, 9 g fat, 26 g carbohydrate, 14 g protein, 384 mg sodium, 20 mg cholesterol and 9 g dietary fiber each.

STRAWBERRY TAPIoca SUPREME

- 2 boxes (4 servings each) tapioca pudding mix
- ¼ cup yolk-free egg

product: 2 to 3 cups skim milk

- 1 qt. fresh strawberries
- 1 carton (8 oz.) frozen fat-free whipped cream
- 6 ladyfingers, split (half a 3 oz. pkg.)

Puree half the strawberries. Place tapioca pudding mix in saucepan.

Stir in pureed strawberries, egg product and enough milk to equal 4 cups liquid. Up to half the liquid can be strawberries.

Cook according to package directions. Let cool. Stir half the whipped topping and half the remaining strawberries, sliced, into tapioca mixture.

Line clear glass bowl with ladyfingers, leaving spaces between cakes so pudding shows through.

Gently spoon tapioca mixture over ladyfingers. Top with remaining whipped topping and strawberries. Chill.

Makes 8 servings; 111 calories, less than 1 g fat, 26 g carbohydrate, 5 g protein, 138 mg sodium, 10 mg cholesterol and 2 g dietary fiber each.

Eat Smart

A tester made strawberry tapioca first for guests, and later put together a second batch using half the ingredients just for her family table.

"This has everything you could want. The colorful, fashion-forward tapioca made the easy way with a pudding mix, colorful strawberries that are spring-fresh yet bright in flavor, whipped topping lightens the pudding, egg product enriches it and the presentation is stunning if you use the ladyfingers in a glass bowl or goblets."

O'Bryan says, "Recipes like these in the contest show how sensible low-fat cooking can be every day, plus they fit into party plans. It looks like people consider it an every-day process."

Winners receive a gift certificate from Shop 'N Save Markets, the heart association's new "Around the World Cookbook" and a cookbook from the Florida Citrus Commission.

BLACK BEAN BURGERS

- 2 cans (16 oz. each) black beans, rinsed, drained, mashed
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 slices multi-grain bread, torn in fine crumbs
- Pepper to taste
- Pinch of cumin
- 1 egg, beaten
- Cracker crumbs

In large bowl, combine beans, onion, garlic, bread, egg, salt, pepper and cumin. Add enough cracker crumbs to make patties.

On pan coated with non-stick cooking spray, fry patties until outside is crispy, but interior is still moist.

Serve on soft multi-grain bread or rolls with condiments desired, like sliced tomato, red onion and dollop of fat-free sour cream flecked with chopped fresh cilantro.

Makes 8 patties; 90 calories, 1.6 g fat, 14 g carbohydrate, 4 g protein, 584 mg sodium, 27 mg cholesterol and 0.5 g dietary fiber each.

Menu suggestion: Serve with Spanish rice, green salad and low-fat flan. To grill patties, add enough cracker crumbs for stiff batter and grease grill well.

SUZIE'S CREAMED SPINACH

- 2 pkg. (10 oz. each) frozen spinach, thawed
- 1 can (10½ oz.) cream of mushroom soup with cracked pepper and herbs
- ½ cup plain nonfat yogurt
- 1 tsp. dried minced onion
- 1 tsp. flour
- 1 tsp. nutmeg
- Pepper to taste

Cook spinach without water in microwave oven 10 minutes on high power. Remove lid. Let sit 10 minutes. To cook on stovetop, cook as directed, then drain off most liquid.

In 2-quart saucepan, combine soup, yogurt, onion, flour, nutmeg and pepper. Heat until mixture begins to thicken. Stir in spinach. Cook until mixture is creamy.

Makes four (1-cup) servings; 82 calories, 1 g fat, 16 g carbohydrate, 6 g protein, 425 mg sodium, no cholesterol and 3 g dietary fiber

Wise Ways

By MARY SCHROEPFER

Newest way to exercise and eat: wrap and roll

Just about any food is getting a wrap these days. Simply a meal rolled in a flour tortilla, a wrap holds fillings from tuna-rice casserole to grilled chicken salad. Tasty ethnic favorites like Thai salad, fajitas, taco salad and lentil salad wrap well, too. Wraps turn a salad into walk-and-eat food or a stir-fry into finger food. Even fast foods get the wrap treatment.

They are fast and easy to make at home. Simply fold one end of the tortilla over filling, turn in each side, and roll it up burrito-style. Use about one-third to 1 cup filling, depending on size of the tortilla.

Make wraps in the kitchen, then serve them ready-to-eat at the table. They become even easier to handle when wrapped in waxed paper and popped into a basket. To keep fat low, fill wraps with grilled or stir-fried vegetables; lettuce, lean meat, fish or chicken strips; or cooked rice, pasta or lentils.

To keep wraps firm, add moist ingredients like sliced tomato just before serving.

Home economist Mary Schroepfer is nutrition specialist with University Extension (University of Missouri system) in Franklin County.

Optional: 4 tsp. chopped onion, 4 tsp. grated Monterey Jack cheese and 4 tsp. chopped fresh tomato (8 (6 inch) flour tortillas, warmed)

Use tomatoes held at room temperature until fully ripe. Core and coarsely chop to make about 4 cups.

In medium saucepan, heat oil until hot. Cook and stir onion and garlic 3 to 4 minutes. Add chili powder and cumin. Cook and stir 1 minute.

Add kidney beans, water and reserved tomato. Cook 20 minutes until thick. Stir in cilantro or parsley. Remove from heat.

To assemble each wrap, spoon ½ cup bean mixture into center of tortilla. If desired, sprinkle with chopped tomato, Monterey Jack cheese and chopped onion. Roll up.

WRAP-ME TOMATO AND BEAN BURRITO

- 3 large (about 1½ lb.) fresh tomatoes
- 1 tbsp. oil
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 1 tsp. minced garlic
- 1 to 2 tsp. chili powder
- 1 tsp. cumin
- 1 can (10 to 12 oz.) red kidney beans, drained, rinsed
- ¾ cup water
- 2 tsp. chopped fresh cilantro or parsley

Shortcake comes in pick-a-flavor

Martha Goessling, Ruma, Ill., is the winner of this week's recipe contest for Strawberries 'N' Cream Pancakes. Her prize is dinner certificates at the Pasta House Co.

This easy, deliciously sweet version of shortcake can be prepared in a variety of flavors, because it starts with a purchased cake mix. She simply spoons sweetened strawberries on top and adds whipped cream with a single fresh strawberry.

Her prediction of how this strawberry shortcake will be received: "They will flip!"

Recipes in the Green Vegetable Recipe Contest should be postmarked by April 30 for consideration as winner each Wednesday in May.

Send in one recipe per household for any kind of dish that features a green vegetable, such as broccoli, beans, asparagus, greens or peas. Send it to: Green Vegetable Recipe Contest, Suburban Journals, 1714 Deer Tracks Trail, St. Louis, Mo. 63131.

Type or print the recipe legibly on one side of the paper. Include name, address and telephone number on the entry. Name the Journal you receive.

Be sure to double-check the recipe as it is written for both amounts and directions, including any variations that make this dish special.

If there is a history to the recipe, it will be considered part of the entry. Along with taste and eye appeal, it will be among criteria used for selecting winners. Originality will be considered, although the recipe need not be original. If possible, name the recipe's source.

Winners are notified by mail. Duplicate entries will be considered on the basis of earlier entry or best compliance with the rules. Contest winners may enter again six months after their prize-winning publication date.

STRAWBERRIES 'N' CREAM PANCAKES

- 2 cups cake mix
  - 1 egg
  - ½ cup water
  - ½ cup flour
  - ½ cup chopped nuts
  - Sweetened sliced strawberries
  - Whipped cream
  - 8 strawberries with stems
- Lightly mix together cake mix, eggs, water, flour and nuts.
- Drop by heaping tablespoonful onto lightly greased griddle or heavy skillet.

COUNTRY CHICKEN STEW

- 2 slices bacon, diced
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- 1 tsp. leaf oregano, crushed
- 1 can (10½ oz.) cream of chicken soup
- 1 soup can water
- 4 medium potatoes, peeled, cut in chunks
- 2 medium carrots, diagonally sliced
- 1 cup frozen cut green beans
- 2 can (5 oz. each) chunk white chicken
- 2 tsp. chopped fresh

parley

In 10-inch skillet over medium heat, cook bacon until crisp. Transfer to paper towels to drain.

In hot drippings, cook onion and oregano until onion is tender.

Stir in soup, water, potato and carrot. Heat to boiling, stirring occasionally. Reduce heat to low. Simmer covered, 15 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Stir in beans. Simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Stir in bacon, chicken and its liquid and parsley. Heat through. Makes 5½ cups or 4 servings.

It's never too late to celebrate with moist cake

Birthday celebrations never go out of style. Few people can hide a smile, although they think they want to, when something special is planned in their honor.

According to a recent survey, 90 percent of children ages 10 to 15 and 28 percent of adults were given a party on their last birthday. Nearly all children (89 percent) and teens (86 percent) had birthday cakes, as did 64 percent of adults, on their last birthday.

More birthdays are being celebrated away from home, too. Whether the cake is cut at work, school, a pizza parlor, restaurant or public attraction, it is a symbol that acknowledges the uniqueness of a person. For the cake made at home, the honoree can choose a favorite flavor from the boxed mixes on the baking shelf of the supermarket. Frosting—including strawberry, chocolate and lemon by flavor—is easy to make from confectioner's sugar available in the same aisle.

If the cake is under control, another way to personalize the celebration is with place cards "glued" and lettered with frosting on rectangular pieces of graham cracker.

BIRTHDAY CAKE

- 2 (8 or 9 inch) cake layers
1 box (16 oz.)
confectioner's sugar in plain, chocolate, lemon
or strawberry flavor
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter or margarine, softened
1/4 cup milk
Food coloring, if desired

In large bowl, using mixer at medium speed, beat confectioner's sugar, butter and milk 1 to 2 minutes. If necessary, add more milk until desired consistency. Spread frosting between layers and over entire surface of cake.

If using flavored confectioner's sugar, food coloring can be added for deeper color.

Mix and use flavored frostings individually to make flowers and write on cake.

For chocolate frosting, use 1/2 cup butter or margarine (1 stick), softened, plus 1/4 cup milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Decorating Cake: To make flower decorations, frosting consistency should be firm. Mold 1/4 teaspoon frosting into petal shapes, then cluster petal shapes to form flower.

FEELING FIT

By Mark
Lymberopoulos

YOU'RE NEVER TOO OLD TO GET IN SHAPE. In a Boston study, after a few weeks of lifting weights to strengthen their legs, a group of small, frail people in their 80's and 90's were able to get around more quickly and climb stairs better, some even threw away their walkers.

There's something in olive oil that seems to change the composition of HDL's, helping them to do a better job at unclogging arteries, a French study found. Don't add olive oil to your diet, the doctors say; use it instead of the fats you eat now.

Check your old running shoes before you buy new ones. If the heels are worn down excessively on the inside or outside, or the heel counter is misshapen, you may need shoes with more stability in the heel.

The old-fashioned medicine ball is back in the fitness routine. Exercisers find it great for building strength and power in the lower back, abdomen, hips, arms and hands. Some workouts can be tailored to the needs of specific sports.

From old-fashioned favorites to the newest technology, you get a wide range of exercise options at

this van

GMC Savana

By Tom Strongman

Gaze into the GMC Savana's four rows of seats and you get the idea this vehicle is intended for more than family hauling, unless your family happens to have enough kids for a baseball team.

Getting into the Savana's driver's seat is quite a step, yet when you're there it drives much like a standard minivan. Visibility out front is panoramic, but not so good out back. Its length makes it tricky in parking lots, and while parallel parking is not exactly a snap, I didn't really have all that much trouble, either.

Up front, the captain's chairs are comfy, but around back the three rows of full-width seats are firm and do not tilt or adjust. They come out only with a wrench, instead of a quick release, and that makes the Savana less versatile than smaller minivans.

When a friend and I went biking, the only way to get our bikes inside was to slide them between the seats. This big van was wide enough and that was not a problem.

The speed-sensitive power steering was light enough for easy maneuvering in tight spots, yet retained decent road feel on the open road.

One advantage of the new design is a smaller "doghouse," the nickname given to the box that covers the engine. In the old days the engine seriously intruded on legroom, but that is not so any more. In fact, it is easy to swivel out of the front seat and walk to the back.

The new dash has improved ergonomics, and all major controls fall easily within the driver's reach. A large console with cup holders and glove box now sits under the dash.

I noted that some of the switches and trim work looked more like a truck than a car, yet the overall level of fit and finish was similar to that of a minivan.

The swing-out rear doors open 165 degrees for easy loading. Thick door pillars, however, block rear vision and prevent installation of a rear wiper, which I missed in the rain. Learn to use the outside mirrors and forget about looking through the back door.

Even with all seats in place there is a decent amount of space for luggage behind the fourth seat.

Built in Wentzville, Mo., on 135- or 155-inch wheelbases, the Savana was all-new last year, including its name. It was formerly known as the Rally in the passenger configuration and Vandura for the base cargo model. The nose is rounded off, the tail lights are mounted high in the aft door pillars and the interior is now on par with most other trucks. For 1997 dual air bags are available, as is speed-sensitive power steering, daytime running lights and refined cooling and climate-control systems.

Full-size vans often wind up at conversion companies for transformation into rolling family rooms, or they are ordered stripped down for commercial use. Our van, however, was equipped with seats for 12 and all the creature comforts of a typical minivan.

There are three outlets for heating and air conditioning, so rear-seat passengers will not smother or freeze.

Although there are five different engine choices, the 5.7-liter Vortec V-8 in our test unit probably is the best one overall. Its 245 horsepower was welcome when I accelerated up to highway speed, where it cruised quite pleasantly. The ride is firm, but not much rougher than a minivan. I never drove it with more than two people on board.

Other engine choices include a 4.3-liter V-6, a 5.0-liter V-8, a 7.4-liter V-8 and 6.5-liter V-8 turbo diesel.

Outside of commercial use, vans such as the Savana have a very specific appeal. Folks who need this much space will appreciate how much more civilized the new model is compared to the last.

The base price of our test vehicle was $24,860. It was equipped with power windows and locks, tilt steering wheel, cruise control, front and rear air conditioning, tinted glass, remote keyless entry, electric outside mirrors, six-way power driver's seat and AM/FM stereo cassette with compact disc player.

The sticker price was $30,140.

The basic warranty is for three years or 36,000 miles.

Point: Big enough for a Little League team and nearly as comfortable as a family sedan, the Savana fills a niche for folks with big families or unusual hauling needs.

Counterpoint: Vision to the rear is hindered by wide door pillars, and some switches were not well-finished.

Points & Plugs

By Rick Stoff

Retrofitting the old car or truck with a new air conditioner is looking like a better deal all the time.

The U.S. Department of Justice has convicted or charged members of several major "Freon rings" with violating federal laws prohibiting the importation of illegal R-12 refrigerant used in air conditioners assembled before 1993.

R-12, which used to be as expensive as apples, now costs about $20 per pound wholesale. Despite an internationally adopted ban on producing R-12 after Jan. 1, 1995, it continues to be manufactured in China, India, Mexico and Russia.

The ban was adopted because R-12 and similar gases released into the atmosphere are believed to damage the ozone layer that surrounds Earth and protects the surface from dangerous ultraviolet wavelengths of light.

Some of that illegally produced refrigerant has been illegally imported to the U.S., according to the justice department. The government has convicted 18 people on smuggling charges so far.

The Environmental Protection Agency estimates that U.S. supplies of R-12 are sufficient for another one to two years of demand. As prices continue to climb, conversion kits that enable autos to use the newer, safer R-134a refrigerant are expected to become more popular.

The car of the future will be built with worn-out carpeting. Not on the floor, that is, but under the hood. DuPont Automotive has developed processes to turn used nylon carpeting into parts such as air cleaner housings for cars and trucks. The company will use 27 million square feet of old carpeting to make the parts for 3 million Fords.

If the new Jaguar is too big or expensive for your tastes or wallets, wait for the kitten that's coming in 1999. Jaguar is working on a smaller car that will be in the same class as the five-series BMW. The car is expected to cost a bit more than $40,000.

If current BMWs aren't fast enough for your tastes, wait for a new M5 from BMW Motorsport. BMW says the car will have 400 horsepower but be limited to a top speed of 155 miles per hour.

What are the neatest automobile collectibles? According to Mobilia magazine, the most desirable items include old Shell road maps, window decals from the 1950s and '60s, Johnny Lightning die-cast Matchbox toy cars and trucks, and the book "Offenhausen."

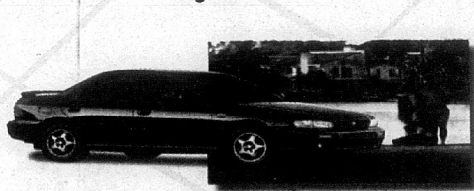

The attack of the monster trucks shows no signs of abating. Ford expects trucks to account for 65 percent of its vehicle sales this year, up from 62 percent in 1996. Ford sold 2.1 million trucks and 1.7 million cars last year.

ORGANIZATIONS

Drusilla Andrews Chapter

The Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the NSDAR met in the home of Regent Linda Mizell on Feb. 15 with nine members attending.

After a breakfast lunch, the Regent led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Judge Schatz read the President General's monthly message and Emma Schoen discussed some National Defense articles relating to spending cuts in various phases of the government and their resulting effects.

The minutes were read by the secretary and the treasurer reported that all commitments to the National and State organizations had been met.

Barbara Williams announced the names of the three local high school Good Citizens as Laura Peterson from Madison High, Evette Everett from Venice High, and Melanie Gensert from Granite City High. They will be recognized either at special assemblies in their schools or during graduation exercises with special awards.

The State Convention will be held in Effingham in late March and three members are planning to attend. A proposed slate of officers for the next two years was presented as follows: Regent Linda Mizell, Vice Regent Emma Schoen, Treasurer Sandra Wilkinson, Secretary Barbara Williams, Registrar Julie Schatz, Chaplain Jane Vanseler, and Historian-Librarian Georgia Engleke. The slate and other proposed nominations will be voted on at the March meeting; officers will be installed in May.

Jane Vanseler presented a program on "An Indian Pioneer Woman."

Others in attendance were

Audrey Sherry and Dorothy Whitmer.

Phi Tau Omega

The February meeting of the Eta Alumnae Chapter Phi Tau Omega Sorority was held on Feb. 5, 1987, at Charlie's Restaurant, hosted by Mildred Jungles. Valentine's Day theme was used to decorate tables.

Recently deceased sorority member Melba Taroff was remembered. Following a delicious buffet luncheon, card games occupied the afternoon.

Prices were awarded to the following who excelled: Julie Drew, Mary Evelyn Yenko, Van Stuart, Ann McDowell, Elsie Rodell and Marguerite Lexow.

Other members present were Betty Harris, Francis Hartman, Helen Hoelcher, Mildred Jungles and Mary Lou Tonack.

Elkettes

Members of the Elkettes attended a pot luck dinner on Feb. 4, 1987, at the Elka Lodge. Hostesses for the event were Virginia Wofford, Janet Harris, Bonnie Mitchell and Elsie Rodell.

Ella Wade opened the meeting with a prayer. Dorothy Kenney, president, announced that on March 8 the Elks will celebrate their 80th anniversary with a dinner catered by Charlie's. The Elkettes next fund raiser will be a chance to go for a trip to two to Cancun, Mexico, or another destination of the winner's choice. It was voted to purchase needed items for the club coffee maker, plates, flatware, and dishwasher equipment. Dorothy Kenney announced the Elks pancake and sausage breakfast will be served on Feb. 16 at the Elka Club. The $50.50 prize was won by Hilda Lombardi. The door prizes were won by Erma Balde and Denise South. The nominating committee recommended the following slate of officers for the coming year: president, Ruth Noebels; vice president, Doris Anderson; secretary, Debbie Willis; treasurer, Helen Dooley; corresponding secretary, Hilda Lombardi; guard, Roberta Cottrell; chaplain, Sandy Kozyski; and trustees, Dorothy Kinney, Dean Graf, Beas Weiss, Helen Toddoroff and Candy Thompson.

Ella Wade closed the meeting with a prayer. The next meeting is scheduled for March 4.

Seniors Unlimited

Seniors Unlimited of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church held their monthly meeting in Wesley Hall of the church. Director Delton Groothuis welcomed the group then turned the meeting over to Bryon Briner. He gave the devotion for the day entitled "Importance of Bible Study versus Drop in Sunday School Attendance."

A delicious meal of Subway Sandwiches and cherry cobbler was served to the group. Speaker for today was Cindy Gavilsky from Coordinated Youth Services. She spoke of how the schools and the Coordinated Youth Services work together with all of the students in our schools.

The group is going to S.I.U. to see "Hello Dolly" in April. Wanda Groothuis and Georgina McMillan have a mystery trip planned for the group March 20th. There were 48 in attendance.

Nameokie Women's Club

The Nameokie Women's Club met at noon Feb. 15, 1987, at the Harold Brown building. A desert luncheon was served by the hostesses—Lou Tabor, Mildred Jungles and Dolores Allen. After lunch a business meeting was called by Marian Shelton, president.

Following the business meeting, bingo was played.

Also present were Lucille Etheridge, Enda Forcade, Doris Greve, Dorothy McCauley, Marian Meritz, Elsie Rodell, Ella Wade and Glenna Eaton.

The next meeting is scheduled for March 19 at Shoney's Restaurant.

Homemakers Association

The February meeting of the Granite City Unit of Homemakers Association H.C.E. was held at the Anchorage Recreational Center. The invocation was given by Mary Evelyn Yenko and a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses Mary Evelyn Yenko and Mary Thebeau.

President Mary Thebeau opened the meeting with everyone reciting the pledge to the flag and the Homemakers' Aim.

Roll call was taken and 14 members were in attendance. Vincine Zerlan won the attendance prize. First Vice President Flo Stokes thanked the hostesses for the lunch and then introduced them again as they gave the lesson on Disaster Preparedness. It was a very interesting and informative lesson.

Due to illness Second Vice President Florence Hagnauer resigned her office and Elizabeth Schmidt will fill out the balance of her term.

Family living chairman Ann Miller gave a report. It was announced that the annual conference will be held in Peoria on March 25, 26 and 27. The kick-off luncheon for new members will be held on Feb. 5 at the Farm Bureau Building in Edwardsville. Granite City Unit has one new member, Tammy Ambruster.
